

HISTORIA ET IUS – NUMBER 11

- 1) Francesco Aimerito, Eversion of the ecclesiastical axis: the “transformation” of the Compagnia di San Paolo di Torino (1848-1853)
- 2) Eliana Augusti, Stories and historiography of the Consulates in the East between the nineteenth and twentieth centuries
- 3) Josée Bloquet, The project of civil legislation (1789) of Philippeaux: the legacy of the past for the benefit of the new spirit
- 4) Francesco D’Urso, The ideal library of a jurist in the mid-nineteenth century. From an unpublished letter by Luigi Borsari (1804-1887)
- 5) Francesca De Rosa, The French Protectorate in Tunisia and the Italian lawyers (1881-1944)
- 6) Silvia Di Paolo, From particular regulae to general norms: towards an administrative law of the Church (XV-XVI centuries)
- 7) Alessia Maria Di Stefano, “Law is not a theoretical science but an organic and natural process”: new perspectives for the History of Law in Italy during the nineteenth century
- 8) Daniele Edigati, From the notary to the investigating judge: an itinerary of history of the judicial institutions in Tuscany by the Ancien Régime to Restauration
- 9) Lorenzo Fascione, Barbarians and land work in the West by Theodosius I (382) to Odoacre (476)
- 10) Carlotta Latini, The "signs" of deviance and the criminality of the poor. Penalty and prevention in the thought of Enrico Ferri, a fuzzy socialist
- 11) Giuseppe Mazzanti, Habere rem cum iudea a christiano est rem habere cum cane iuris interpretatione. The damnata commixtio and the crime of bestiality in the legal doctrine of common law
- 12) Gustavo Adolfo Nobile Mattei, Omnes utriusque sexus studeant honeste vivere. Sexual discipline in legislation of Benevento (XV-XVII century)
- 13) Andrea Padovani, Violence and private peace in a city of Romagna: Imola in the fifteenth century
- 14) Claudia Passarella, The death penalty in Venice in the modern age
- 15) Federico Roggero, The “corpo” and the “territorio” of the universitas in the Kingdom of Naples
- 16) Paolo Rondini, Judicial police and magistracy in liberal Italy
- 17) Francesco Serpico, Stories of ordinary inquisition. The lawyer and the defence of the inmate
- 18) Augusto Pierantoni, About abolition of the death penalty (1865), introduction by Elio Tavilla
- 19) In memory of Enrico Mazzaresse Fardella (1930-2017), by Beatrice Pasciuta
- 20) Nicola Picardi: processualist and historian, by Andrea Panzarola
- 21) Antonello Cincotta, The affaire Gesù. The process, synchronies, legal deaconries and scientific feasible. Suggestions and hypotheses regarding some recent contributions
- 22) Neng Dong, The double domain in the Chinese legal experience. The practice of yitian liangzhu between uses and legislation
- 23) Sara Menzinger, Reflections on the connection between author and text in medieval juridical production
- 24) Ferdinando Treggiari, What cases? The method of cases in the history of juridical teaching
- 25) Lihong Zhang, Neng Dong, A New Reading on Great Qing Code. A Comparative and Historical Survey

Appendix

Structure and Tradition. Acts of the study day in memory of Severino Caprioli. By Maria Rosa Di Simone and Giovanni Diurni