

HISTORIA ET IUS – NUMBER 13

- 1) Natalino Irti, Roman Law categories in the hermeneutical debate
- 2) Giuseppina De Giudici, The royal patronage in the dialectic of powers: Savoyard Sardinia (1720-1773)
- 3) Giordano Ferri, Between dogmatism and antidogmatism. Accounts about civil procedural studies at Roman Sapienza University
- 4) Francesco Godano, Ippolito Marsili's enigmatic biography. First notes: the personal sphere and the education
- 5) Carlotta Latini, The emergency and the mischance. Earthquake, war and extraordinary powers in Italy at the beginnings of the Twentieth century
- 6) Giuseppe Mazzanti, A possible Tridentine marriage. The solemnis traductio ad domum of the bride-to-be
- 7) Gustavo Adolfo Nobile Mattei, Tuve amor, y tengo honor. Revenge and justice in a drama by Calderón de la Barca
- 8) Andrea Pennini, The suppression of the "regular orders" in Napoleonic Piedmont
- 9) Gian Paolo Trifone, The political element in the criminal law interpretation according to the doctrine of the fascist period
- 10) The Italian legal thought. Bibliographies of Philosophy of Law, Italian History of Law, Roman Law, Civil, Commercial, Maritime, Aeronautical Law, Civil Procedural Law (1941) – by Dario Di Cecca, Giordano Ferri, Matteo Marcattili
- 11) Paolo Angelini, Again about the history of law and Slavic topics: origin and development of the subject (1800-1870)
- 12) Julien Boudon, The "mixed" systems and the category of "semi-presidential" regimes. The constitutional qualification of the 5th Republic
- 13) Elisa Mongiano, "Et licet non soleat consilium...". A "decision" of a Savoyard Supreme Court at the beginnings of the modern age
- 14) Giovanni Rossi, Rhetoric and Law in the Civil Glossators' works: the allegorical poems
- 15) Letizia Solazzi, Remarks about "The consent of the offended one" (1924) by Filippo Grisigni
- 16) Giancarlo Vallone, Interpreting the Liber Augustalis
- 17) Comparing the law systems in an historical research: the stratagems, the methods, the resources (texts by Sylvain Soleil, Luisa Brunori, Claire de Blois, Romain Broussais, Elodie Coutant, Théa Martial Dougbo)