

HISTORIA ET IUS – NUMBER 9

- 1) In memory of Severino Caprioli (by Giovanni Diurni)
- 2) In memory of Aldo Mazzacane (by Mario Caravale)
- 3) Maria Rosa Di Simone, The legal status of the woman in the ABGB
- 4) Federico Martino, Story of the man who wanted to swear in his own way. Civil law and freedom of conscience between the Revolution and the Empire
- 5) Giacomo Pace Gravina, “In Sicilia per poco non è data la stessa aria in enfiteusi”: a juridical institution in the Leggi Civili of 1819 according to the interpretation of the islander jurists
- 6) Antonio Cappuccio, speculative practices and resistances of the law: forward contracts on securities in France between the Ancien Régime and the codification
- 7) Antonello Cincotta, The environment “l’Antico e noi”. Historical introduction to a study on the environmental criminal law.
- 8) Daniele Edigati, A typical reform of the end of the Ancien Régime issued on the eve of the annexation. Moreau de Saint-Méry and the problem of the criminal justice in the Duchy of Parma.
- 9) Alessia Legnani Annichini, The juridical discipline of the mediator between the iura propria and the ius commune: the situation in Bologna (13th and 15th centuries)
- 10) Claudia Passarella, The judicial torture in the Republic of Venice in the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries
- 11) Federico Roggero, The history of the common lands of the city of L’Aquila
- 12) Enrico Sandrini, The regulation of legal professions in the austro-estense Duchy.
- 13) Adhémar Esmein, The case-law and the doctrine (1902), introduction by Paolo Alvazzi del Frate
- 14) Pierpaolo Bonacini: The gloss: a new digital resource for legal history
- 15) Antonio Cammelli – Francesco Romani, Technologies for legal history: the references to the term “mandato” within ancient and contemporary juridical documents
- 16) Maria De Benedetto, The feature of the regulatory function: yesterday, today and tomorrow
- 17) Simona Feci, The criminal lawyers in the Pontifical State during the Baroque period. An ongoing research
- 18) Maria Michela Greco, The Thirty-Six Commandments: the Irish Code of Honor
- 19) Antonio Masi, The “Treasure finding” in the Gospel of Matthew
- 20) Paolo Passaniti, Reflections on the historical meaning of the metayage. The Tuscan version of a specific contract
- 21) Federico Sciarra, The marriage in the nineteenth century between the civil and ecclesiastical power
- 22) Enrico Spangesi, Italy “semenzaio di nazioni” (Sismondi). About Lorenzo Tanzini, A Consiglio. La vita politica nell’Italia dei comuni, Bari, Laterza, 2014.
- 23) Pilar Arregui Zamorano – Mercedes Galán Lorda, Ismael Sánchez and his contribute to legal history
- 24) Pascual Marzal, Mariano Peset Reig: professor of legal history

- 25) Presentation: "Procesos con nombre de mujer", by Margarita Torremocha Hernández
- 26) Marco Cavina, Women and euthanasia: criminal typology
- 27) Margarita Torremocha Hernández, Juridical and social considerations on adulterous women in Castilla at the end of the Ancien Régime
- 28) Perdo Ortego Gil, Judgments on women during the Modern period: basic juridical aspects for its comprehension
- 29) Ofelia Rey Castelao, Galician women in front of the courts: their own defenses
- 30) José Luis de las Heras Santos, Woman and moral in Castilian legislation during the Modern period
- 31) Alfredo Martín García, Plaintiffs, defendants and witnesses. The documentation on women in the marital proceedings produced by the Ecclesiastical Military Court in the Kingdom of Galicia during the Modern period
- 32) María José Pérez Álvarez, Priests and concubines: the lawsuits in front of the ecclesiastical court of the diocese of León during the eighteenth century
- 33) María Luisa Candau Chacón, Women in front of the justice: bigamists in modern Sevilla
- 34) Carlos Lozano Ruiz, Verbal abuses in the domestic environment. The condition of maidservants at the end of the Modern period
- 35) Alberto Corada Alonso, Gossipy and shameless women. From street pardon to defamation crime
- 36) Damigela Hoxha, Criminal women between doctrine and praxis at the end of the eighteenth century
- 37) Cesarina Casanova, Women's crimes, indulgent judges (Bologna, 16th and 18th centuries)